

NOVEMBER 2012

11.14.2012 (Service Alerts) – Hey Y'all, it's Web Tip Wednesday time! We've already covered the Service Updates page on our website, so today we're talking about the Service Alerts page. This is also under the Rider Tools section, and it shows all of the active alerts on individual routes in one place. Click the link below to visit our Service Alerts page and read up on the bus stops temporarily being affected by construction or other temporary delays and re-routes. Thanks, have a great day, and stay safe out there!

11.7.2012 (TDP) – Good morning, voters! We're sure everyone's looking forward to less politics in their friends' updates from now on so we can get back to talking about important things like Honey Boo Boo and The Walking Dead. ;) For us at CAT, it's Web Tip Wednesday time again! Today we want to tell you about a big, new project: the TDP. This is our Transit Development Plan for the next 5 years, and we need YOU to make it successful. Where do YOU want to see more service? What do YOU like and dislike about current service. How do YOU picture transit in Chatham County 2, 3, or 5 years from now? We have a special TDP email, public meetings for discussion, and on-board surveys for your opinions and suggestions, so please don't be shy. Visit our TDP page [located under Projects & Initiatives in the About CAT section] today and tell us how you feel. Thanks, and have a great day!
